Los Angeles, CA. Bolt Barbers marks the 365th day of operations and the 3650th “Hairy Beast” during Thursday’s Art walk with a cheeky celebration of dude-dom on 11/11 from 5P-2A at Bolt Barbers DTLA flagship at Fifth and Spring Streets. The uniquely DTLA brand is donating all services proceeds during the Veteran’s Day event to benefit The Midnight Mission.

The event kicks off with stand up comedy from 6P-7P featuring downtown talent including Jay McCleave, Amir K, & Justin Fielding. NBC’s Nicholas Gismondi, host of Universal Sports, is Master of Ceremonies. Newestra’s La Muerte & Antidote will be spinning tunes all evening and enough strawberry shortcake to feed a battalion will be gobbled at 8P.

New York City based artist Sarah Eaves, will celebrate the LA debut of her show “Tu Fais Belle/Tu Fais Beau” with haunting portraits in oil, watercolor, and graphite at the event. The barbering tribe will also be performing their three prides, shearing, shaving, and shining until 10P. A private party for card carrying Hairy Beasts (Bolt’s frequent dude loyalists) continues until 2A with catering by Langer’s Old School Deli and tattooing by black and gray inker Luis Arias.

About The Midnight Mission:

Founded in 1914, Tom Liddecoat, opened the doors of The Midnight Mission as a refuge to the men of Skid Row. From their humble beginnings as a charitable act of one man to the complex multi-disciplined organization today, the organization has benefited from consistent, compassionate and competent leadership. About Bolt Barbers

BOLT BARBERS® was founded on 11/12/2009 by Global Marketing Entrepreneur & Corporate Drop Out Mohawk Matt Berman, who traded his laptop, blackberry, and Bluetooth for a clippers, straight edge razor, and a pair of shears. BOLT Barbers is the largest barbershop in Los Angeles County and the only barbershop in the United States that remains open until Midnight (Thursdays-Saturdays).
